SEPTEMBER 2012

ZYCH'S TIPS:

- Many cars on the road are equipped with “squealer clips” on the brake pads that warn you when your brakes are getting worn out; however, they don’t always work.
- It’s important to check your brakes at least once a year, or every 10,000 miles, to ensure they are in good shape.
- If the brake pads get worn all the way down, they can chew up a rotor in no time—which can be a costly repair. But more importantly, may cause decreased braking performance, which could result in an accident.
